CMC MARINE USA JOINS THE NMMA

– CCMC Marine, through its CMC Marine USA branch joins the NMMA – National Maritime Manufacturers Association – which is the category's trade association which groups together the most important companies in the USA and Canada's yachting industry. For CMC Marine the affiliation with the NMMA wants to give a strong signal to its clients who will have an additional reason to rely on the company and the products it produces.

CMC Marine USA has been working out of its headquarters in Fort Lauderdale since 2018 to operate directly in overseas markets to consolidate the presence of the brand in the field, supply a direct support and last but not last to adapt products to local requests.

The importance foreign markets have on the Italian CMC is shown by the bolstering up of the international network service through an on line training programme set up during the Covid 19 period. In fact CMC Marine has certified several new service centres starting with the latest partnerships with Spanish Astilleros de Mallorca, Thai Tonsai marine services and the Asia Superyacht Development situated in Singapore.

Astilleros de Mallorca is the area's reference point par excellence for refits & repairs since 1942. It is fully recognised by the CAEB (Confederation of the companies acting from the Balearics) for what concerns environmental management in all of the companies' departments.

The Asia Superyacht Development (ASD) is led by two at the helm: Jean-Jacques Lavigne (CEO) and Alexandre Plent (COO) who has been actively in-
